Personality

If you predominantly wear the colour olive/lime green it will reveal the following about your personality:

Your leadership qualities are fuelled by creativity, intuition and learning from your experiences. Your self worth comes from your own inner truth; wisdom and feelings of the heart guide you through life.

You are very gentle and compassionate towards others and tolerant of other people's opinions and viewpoints.

You are a modest person and will not voluntarily stand out in a crowd as this colour acts like a camouflage for you. Despite giving the impression of being withdrawn and silent, deep down you are very strong and have the courage to overcome defeat and rejection.

You love new challenges, adventures and projects and are always willing to expand your knowledge and experiences. You are a loyal, openhearted and consistent personality who is not afraid to try new systems or directions, provided they are not in conflict with your principles.

Your challenge in life is to maintain inner peace and not let fear affect this. When you find it difficult to relax and unwind, try to look after your own emotional needs first.

More about olive/lime green

When we take an olive from the tree it tastes bitter. The olive needs to be fermented and treated to become sweet. Life experiences can sometimes make us bitter and disappointed unless we allow the experience to be changed from bitterness into the sweetness of life. The colour olive/lime green can support us to expand on all levels, using the knowledge (yellow) and emotions (green) to grow.

Olive/lime green has more yellow than green. A dislike of this colour indicates that fear (yellow) is preventing us to follow our hearts desire (green) and therefore we are not allowing ourselves to expand.
